

Find A Grave

Why do I want to use it?

- Million of records and photographs from all over the world!
- Keep a group of Memorials, from numerous cemeteries, in one location on a page you maintain
- Mark cemeteries as a favorite and access them on any computer without redoing a search
- Opportunity to give back to the genealogical community
- It's FREE!!! (although there are ads)

Terminology

- Memorial—think of a tombstone that may give you more than just a name and dates
- Registered User—able to add, request, and/or contribute information
- Virtual Cemeteries—Memorials put together by a Registered User for their purposes (e.g., military memorials, memorials for a specific location, etc.)
- Contributor—Registered User who may take or add photos, suggest/make edits, and/or manage a virtual cemetery
- Cenotaph—marker in a cemetery to honor a person whose remains are not physically there (e.g., cremated, lost at sea)

Citing your Source

- Yes, it's good to do and simple

Become a Registered User? Why?

- Favorite cemeteries
- Create your own virtual cemetery(ies)
- Keep track of what contributions you've done or need to do

Using the Site

- Which cemeteries are on the site?
- What information is needed to do a search?
- What type of information can I find?

